RATIFICATION OF TREATIES NEARING VOTE

Bonn, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer declared today that West Germany must hurry and re-arm because the death of Joseph Stalin has increased the danger of war.

As he spoke, hundreds of police surrounded the Parliament Building to keep off crowds of Communist-led demonstrators seeking to march on Parliament and block the vote. One band of nearly 1,000 screaming, chanting demonstrators was beaten off by police using firehoses. There also was an outburst of fistfighting, and several demonstrators were arrested.

Adenauer declared that if the German people realized the full extent of their danger they would delay no longer in joining up with the European Defense Community, which is backed by the United States and Britain. Germany is slated to provide 500,000 men for this situation.

He said Russia had 140 divisions in East Germany and the East European satellite states — and that nobody knew what Stalin's successors in the Kremlin would do with them.

Police said they had reports that Communists and neutralists opposing the treaties planned to import demonstrators from wide areas of West Germany, especially from the industrial Ruhr, to stage disorders.

Sparking the fight against these opponents was 77-year-old Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who wants the lower house's approval (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Close Guard on Tito In London Conferences

London (AP)—Yugoslav President Tito discussed with Prime Minister Churchill and other top British leaders today ways in which his anti-Soviet state can ward off possible Russian aggression.

The tightly guarded international conference in Britain's Whitehall government center was believed to have taken up Yugoslavia's air defense against Russia's fast MIG15 jet fighters.

Not only the Soviet Union, but most of her satellites surrounding Yugoslavia now are armed with the swift Red jet. Tito's air forces are equipped with slower and outmoded British piston-engine planes.

Body Taken from River Is Venango Co. Man

The body of a man found at 8:45 a. m. today in the Allegheny river four miles south of Franklin was identified as that of William Neubauer, 52, of Oil City, for several years a resident of the Venango County Home at Sugar Creek. He disappeared March 9.

When word of the finding was received here by State Police teletype this morning it was thought it might be the body of Stanley Wilson, 70, of Hodge Run, who has been missing since Jan. 27.

The Venango county coroner had issued no certificate this afternoon but it was believed Neubauer had taken his own life. The body was found between Ajax and Belmar.

Detective Agency Is Reported Probing Mysterious Disappearance of Mrs. Wells

Sheriff L. E. Linder said today that he has not as yet been contacted by two representatives of a private detective agency who reportedly have been engaged to attempt a solution of the disappearance of Mrs. Gordon F. Wells from her summer home, "Hi Acres," on Robbins Hill in Elk township in the latter days of July, 1952.

The detectives were in Mayville as early as Monday of this week and telephoned to Warren for data regarding the name of Wassilji Gusev, the displaced person who left the Wells' employment the day before Mrs. Wells disappeared. They also asked where he was located by Sheriff Linder and what had led the local officer to the Tol-

Ike Lauded By Democrats For Bohlen Stand

Washington (AP)—Democrats generally applauded the Eisenhower administration today for standing firm on Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen's nomination to be ambassador to Russia, but two Republicans said they may fight it on the Senate floor.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee's 15-0 approval of Bohlen yesterday and Secretary of State Dulles' defense of the nominee were hailed by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) as the start of a "true bi-partisan foreign policy."

Sparkman and Senators Humphrey (D-Minn.) and Mansfield (D-Mont.) said Dulles "met the test." Sparkman added: "It demonstrated the influence of the administration when it chooses to exercise it."

But Senators McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Bridges (R-N.H.) protested the committee's vote of approval on Dulles' evaluation of an FBI field report on Bohlen. They said the committee should have insisted on seeing the report itself.

With admitted prospects for only a handful of opposition votes, McCarthy and Bridges talked about carrying their fight to the Senate floor next Monday.

McCarthy said President Eisenhower should read the FBI report on Bohlen.

Former School Chum to Take Stand at Beaver

Beaver (AP)—A former school chum of slain Margaret Bankowski stood by to testify today in the murder trial of Mrs. Katherine Smutko.

She is Mrs. Joanne Huston Papantoni, 19-year-old former WAC corporal who flew here from Texas where she had been stationed. Mrs. Papantoni was slated to testify yesterday but she disappeared.

She was later located near Ambridge with her husband. They said they had gone there to talk over domestic difficulties.

Mrs. Smutko is on trial in Beaver County Court on charges of beating the Bankowski girl to death in mistake for the victim's mother.

Donora Citizen Admits Embezzling From Church

Donora, (AP)—George S. Sipe, Donora meat market proprietor, is free on $2,500 bond today after pleading guilty to embezzling $2,500 in church funds.

He was held for court last night at a hearing before Alderman J. J. Norton. There was no testimony. The charge was preferred by Alexander M. Graham, president of the board of trustees of the United Presbyterian Church.

Sipe, elected a trustee by the congregation, was appointed treasurer of the church fund. He resigned after the shortage was uncovered last Friday.

Reorganization Plan Given House Approval

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower's first government reorganization plan breezed through the House yesterday and apparently faces even smoother sailing in the Senate.

The proposal would create a new, Cabinet-level Department of Health, Education and Welfare to assume the functions of the present Federal Security Agency. The White House has said Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, FSA administrator, will be named secretary.

When word of the finding was received here by State Police teletype this morning it was thought it might be the body of Stanley Wilson, 70, of Hodge Run, who has been missing since Jan. 27.

The Venango county coroner had issued no certificate this afternoon but it was believed Neubauer had taken his own life. The body was found between Ajax and Belmar.

The detectives were in Mayville as early as Monday of this week and telephoned to Warren for data regarding the name of Wassilji Gusev, the displaced person who left the Wells' employment the day before Mrs. Wells disappeared. They also asked where he was located by Sheriff Linder and what had led the local officer to the Tol-

The detectives visited Robbins Hill on Tuesday, and one of them spent last night in Warren. It was stated by a Frewsburg resident that they interviewed several residents of that town late Monday and late Tuesday. A representative of the sheriff's department of Chautauque county said that, so far as he knew, the men from New York were not working on the case with Chautauque county authorities. The Wells winter home is at 32 Pearl street, Frewsburg.

The curt reply, "Well tell that when we're ready," came from one of the detectives

Belated Christmas Party

Sgt. Evert C. Nyberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Nyberg, Irvine, arrived home yesterday morning from Japan, where he has served for the past 18 months with the U. S. Army, and, last night, enjoyed a traditional Christmas party at the home of his parents. He and his wife, residing at 18 Jefferson avenue, Warren, were treated to a turkey dinner, with all the old-fashioned trimmings, after which he had the pleasure of opening many nice gifts awaiting him under a gaily-lighted Christmas tree.

The sergeant came by boat last week to Seattle, Wash., flew to Camp Kellogg, Battle Creek, Mich., to be released from active duty, and continued the journey home by bus.

Russian Regime Will Never Be Met Less Than Half Way In Peace Effort, Ike States

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the new Russian regime will never be met less than half way by his administration in any effort toward world peace.

But he said the Soviet Union so far has made no formal peace overture.

The president also told his news conference that he sees in the recent series of Communist aircraft attacks on American planes no change in the intentions of the Soviet Union.

It was Eisenhower's fourth news conference and it—like the others—drew a capacity crowd to the conference room in the old State Department Building which seats over 200.

At the outset Eisenhower said there was one subject that has been attracting much speculation, and was occupying the attention of the world generally—the possible significance of the change in the Kremlin as a result of Joseph Stalin's death, what it means to us and whether the recent Communist aircraft attacks on our planes have any great significance.

He went on then to note the new Soviet regime's pronouncements of peaceful intentions as voiced by Premier Malenkov. Eisenhower said those proposals are just as welcome as they are sincere.

Then he declared that the Soviet Union will never be met less than half way by the United States in any move toward world peace.

Eisenhower next discussed what has become one of his favorite

Pope Receives Rousing Reception at Audience

Vatican City (AP)—Rousing cheers rang through Vatican Palace today for Pope Pius XII as he granted his first public audience since he became ill two months ago.

The Pontiff was borne on his portable throne into the Ducal and Royal Chambers of the Vatican Palace, and then into its Hall of Benedictions.

Today, St. Joseph's Day, is a national holiday in Italy.

Sunday the Pope will appear on the loggia of St. Peter's Basilica for the first time since his illness to bless some 50,000 farmers gathered in convention here from all parts of Italy.

When asked by whom they had been retained. They did reveal that their main office is in New York. Mrs. Wells' brother resides in New York.

At the Gerry Mead home, Russell RD 1, it was said this afternoon that Mr. and Mrs. Mead have not been interviewed. The detectives had inquired, at Akeley, for directions to the Mead home. Mr. and Mrs. Mead, it will be remembered, passed the Wells home just before Mrs. Wells disappeared and noticed a stranger, whom Mr. Mead was sure he had seen upon a previous occasion, sitting alongside the road at the edge of the Wells yard.

Sheriff Linder said today that there are no new developments in the Wells case at this time.

40,000,000 To See Academy Award

Hollywood (AP)—Tonight's the night the movies and television get married, with the rites taking place at the 25th annual ceremony of Academy Awards.

For the first time, a television audience estimated at 40,000,000 persons will watch the movie industry's biggest show. It will mark the TV debut for scores of the biggest names in moviedom.

Studios have given blanket clearance for their stars to be seen on television—almost a naughty word in movie circles not too long ago.

Fourteen TV cameras—the same number used for the national political conventions—will greet the emceed and minked movie queens.

Six cameras will be in New York to catch Shirley Booth, a favorite, or any one else who wins. Fredric March, a two-time winner himself, will present the New York Oscars. Jose Ferrer, nominated for "Moulin Rouge," will be in the New York show.

Who's going to win? Most experts pick Miss Booth, Gary Cooper and "High Noon" to cop the three top Oscars.

Officer Says Stittler Confessed to Slaying

Indiana, Pa. (AP)—An Indiana County Detective says George L. Stittler admitted killing a 55-year-old farmer in a blazing gun duel last Nov. 9.

Detective Luke Kelly, one of five state witnesses who testified at Stittler's murder trial yesterday, said he went to the 33-year-old bachelor's home shortly after the shooting and Stittler handed over his gun.

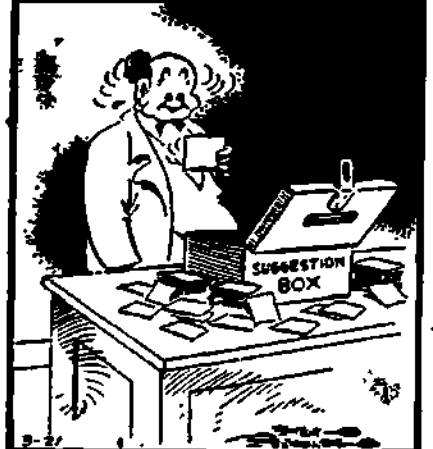

Stittler is accused of slaying battle on Peterman's farm in near-by Smicksburg. Mrs. Peterman testified her husband was jealous of attentions paid her by the younger man and ordered him to leave town.

MARINE FIRE FIGHTERS RAID RED OUTPOST

Seoul (AP)—U. S. Marine raiders, striking in pre-dawn fog and rain with flamethrowers and bayonets, smashed a Chinese company today as the Reds grouped for an assault on Allied Western Front positions.

A Marine divisions spokesman said that of the 175 Communists surprised at the Chinese outpost northeast of Bunker Hill, an estimated 90 were killed and 65 wounded.

The Marines, wearing armored vests, began their raid behind heavy artillery and tank fire. Then the men carrying the flamethrowers moved out.

Behind the flamethrowers came raiders with fixed bayonets. They leaped into the smoking trenches and bunkers and battled the Chinese for more than an hour. They said the Reds who were able finally ran.

Then the Marines pulled back to their own positions.

The action—some five miles northeast of Panmunjom, the truce conference site—was the heaviest reported today along the twisting 155-mile Korean front.

Drizzling rain hampered aerial strikes. However, B26 night bombers blasted Communist supply arteries leading south from Pyongyang, the Korean Red capital, before the weather closed in.

DEAD FISH IN LAKE IRKS CONGRESSMAN

Buffalo, N. Y. (AP)—An area congressman today planned to demand a federal investigation of the cause of death of tens of thousands of fish in Lake Erie and the Niagara River.

And a sportsman who first reported the fish kill said sea gulls were being poisoned by eating the dead fish.

Rep. John R. Pillion (R-N.Y.) flew into Buffalo from Washington last night at the request of the sportsman, Stanley P. Spisak.

Legion Auxiliary to Honor Local Post at Anniversary Dinner

Chief Complanter Unit 155, American Legion Auxiliary, will honor local American Legion Post members Saturday night on the occasion of their 34th birthday anniversary.

The event will be in the form of a dinner at 6:30 o'clock in the Legion Home, with a dance following the serving and traditional birthday festivities. Music will be furnished by Orrie Beebe.

The American Legion was founded in Paris, France, on March 15-17, 1919. The local post was organized shortly thereafter and has been a strong organization in Warren since its very inception. Every year the birthday of the group is celebrated as a reminder of the work for which the Legion stands. Traditionally, the celebration is planned for March 17, but work being done at the home necessitated postponement of the affair until Saturday.

All members of the Legion and their wives are invited to the party and are reminded that coffee, cream, meat, rolls and dessert will be provided.

Serving as the committee on arrangements are Mrs. Jack Barr, chairman; Mrs. Fred Beyer, Mrs. Alan Buerkle, Mrs. Harry Schmidt, with dining room supervision under Mrs. Floyd Ahlquist.

The April price represents a decrease both from the March fluid milk price of $5.08, and from the April, 1952, price of $5.19 per hundredweight.

Kinney, 14 West Wayne street, and Arlene Rydgren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Rydgren, 204 Madison avenue. Appearing as soloist in last year's High School Orchestra concert, she has been chosen for four district meets and for all-state orchestra last year. Both girls are seniors and Miss Rydgren, viola player, is a pupil of Director Harry A. Summers and has played in the district orchestra for the past three years.

Director Nominations Are Received at Busy Session of Junior Chamber of Commerce

Condition of Kinzua Man Gored by Bull Is Reported Serious

Eugene Collins, 46, of Kinzua, is in critical condition at Warren General Hospital today as the result of having been attacked and gored by a bull at his farm at 4:30 p. m. yesterday. He sustained eight fractured ribs on the left side and a collapsed lung as the bull crushed him against the side of his barn and then jumped on him as he lay on the ground.

Roland Collins, a brother of the injured man, said that Mr. Collins had sold the bull, a three-year-old Jersey weighing about 1400 pounds, to a New York state purchaser, and that the buyer was at the farm with a truck to take possession of the animal. The bull, while never ugly before, tended to become excited in the presence of strangers, he said.

When the purchaser was attempting to get a rope on the animal, it knocked him down, and as Mr. Collins pulled on the chain, the bull turned on him and jammed him against the side of the barn. When Collins fell, the bull pressed the attack.

Roland Collins, whose home is adjacent to his brother's farm, happened to pass the place at the time of the accident while en route (Turn to Page Sixteen)

With several irons in the fire, the current project of the Junior Chamber is the Safety Contest to be held March 26-27-28 under the sponsorship of the safety committee consisting of Charles Swanson, chairman, Richard Krapfel, Bud Mader, Ray Slingerland, and Lewis Stark. A detailed story of this project is appearing elsewhere in The Times-Mirror tonight.

In an interesting report on the activity of the Youth Canteen, Abe Swartz, a Jaycee representative on the Canteen steering committee with Robert Geiger, expressed the half-hearted manner in which the community has accepted the project.

Junior Chamber of Commerce Officials Announce Plans for Annual Safety Drive

"Jaycees Say Don't Jaywalk" is the slogan for this year's Jaycee Safety Campaign, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, March 26, 27 and 28. Pedestrian Safety is to be stressed with an exhibit, sidewalk slogans, a special school program, and the Mystery Jaywalkers. During the busy periods in the more congested parts of town the Mystery Jaywalkers will be calling attention to the many bad pedestrian practices. These Mystery Jaywalkers may be well-known, little-known or unknown individuals, members or non-members of the Jaycees who will purposely jaywalk on the Warren streets to emphasize such hazards. Warren pedestrians will have the opportunity of winning cash awards by identifying these Mystery Jaywalkers when they are caught in the act. Anyone who can identify one of the Mystery Jaywalkers by approaching them and saying, "Jaycees Say Don't Jaywalk," will receive a $2.00 cash award on the spot. Anyone who jaywalks to identify a Mystery Jaywalker is disqualified and, of course, the identified Jaywalker has to be one of the Mystery Jaywalkers for the award to be given.

To assist reminders, the Jay-

Cees have been given permission to stencil the slogan "Jaycees Say Don't Jaywalk" at strategic positions on the downtown sidewalks. These stenciled slogans will serve to remind pedestrians of the identifying slogan and to prevent continued jaywalking in many locations.

A badly wrecked car display will also be part of the downtown campaign and a special in-school listening program for next Wednesday will bring the pedestrian safety message to the borough children.

The cash awards for this campaign are made possible by the donations of these seven local insurance firms, cooperating with the Jaycees: W. A. Alexander & Son Insurance Co., B. V. Lesser Insurance Co., Farm Bureau Insurance Co., John Powley, Agent, State Farm Insurance Co., Peter P. Horning, Agent, Wm. P. Taylor Agency, Warren County Insurance Agency, Paul W. Yagge, Agent, and the Yaeger Insurance Agency.

To give a clear and exact meaning as to the word Jaywalk, here's the definition from Webster's dictionary. Jaywalk: — To cross a street carelessly or dangerously, so as to endanger traffic.

ERIE OFFICER LISTED AMONG THE MISSING

St. John's Nfld. (AP)—Two U. S. Air Force planes crashed in Newfoundland yesterday. All 33 men aboard the two planes were believed dead, including an Air Force general.

A giant 10-engine bomber, an RY36, hit a hilltop on the isolated East Coast of Newfoundland. It carried 23 men, including Brig. Gen. Richard E. Ellsworth, 42, of Erie, Pa., commanding general of the Rapid City, S. D., Air Base.

Woodmen found 10 bodies today near the wreckage of the plane—a version of the B36 able to deliver blows from bases in the U. S. to almost any point in the world.

A U. S. Superfortress with a crew of 10 crashed in St. George's Bay, about 290 miles across Newfoundland from St. John's on the West Coast. The plane was from Harmon Field on the West Coast.

Searchers found only wreckage and no survivors in the bay, first reports said.

Both planes were on training flights.

Ground parties combed through the wreckage of the RB36 for additional bodies.

The woodmen had hacked their way through bushland and clambered over deep snowbanks to reach the wreckage in a near trackless area about 30 miles north of here. They reported no immediate trace of the other 14 persons aboard the plane, which crashed en route from the Azores to its base at Rapid City, S. D., while on a training flight.

The base at Rapid City said it had no word of any survivors.

Satellite Chiefs at Gottwald Funeral

Vienna, Austria (AP)—Leaders from the Soviet Union and her satellites paid final homage to Prague today to President Klement Gottwald as the man who led once democratic Czechoslovakia to the Communist world dominated by Moscow.

The Czech and Soviet national anthems opened the funeral service in the Spanish Hall of Prague's ancient Hradcany Castle for Gottwald, who died last Saturday after an attack of pneumonia and pleurisy at the age of 56.

Prague radio broadcast details of the ceremony, which resembled on a smaller scale the funeral of Prime Minister Stalin 10 days ago. Gottwald, an admirer and obedient servant of Stalin, caught the cold that developed into his fatal illness while attending Stalin's funeral in chilly Moscow.

Gottwald's body had been put on public view in the castle on Monday. A period of mourning was ordered.

PIPELINE SUCCESS IN TRANSPORTING COAL

Pittsburgh (AP)—Pipelines may be used soon to transport coal from mine to market.

Coal men like the idea because of the high cost of shipping coal by railroad.

Two Burn to Death in Crash Near Erie

Erie (AP)—Two big tractor-trailer trucks crashed head-on on Route Five, seven miles east of Erie, last night and caught fire. Both drivers burn to death.

David Bellgardt, of Wiloughby, O., was trapped in his flaming cab.

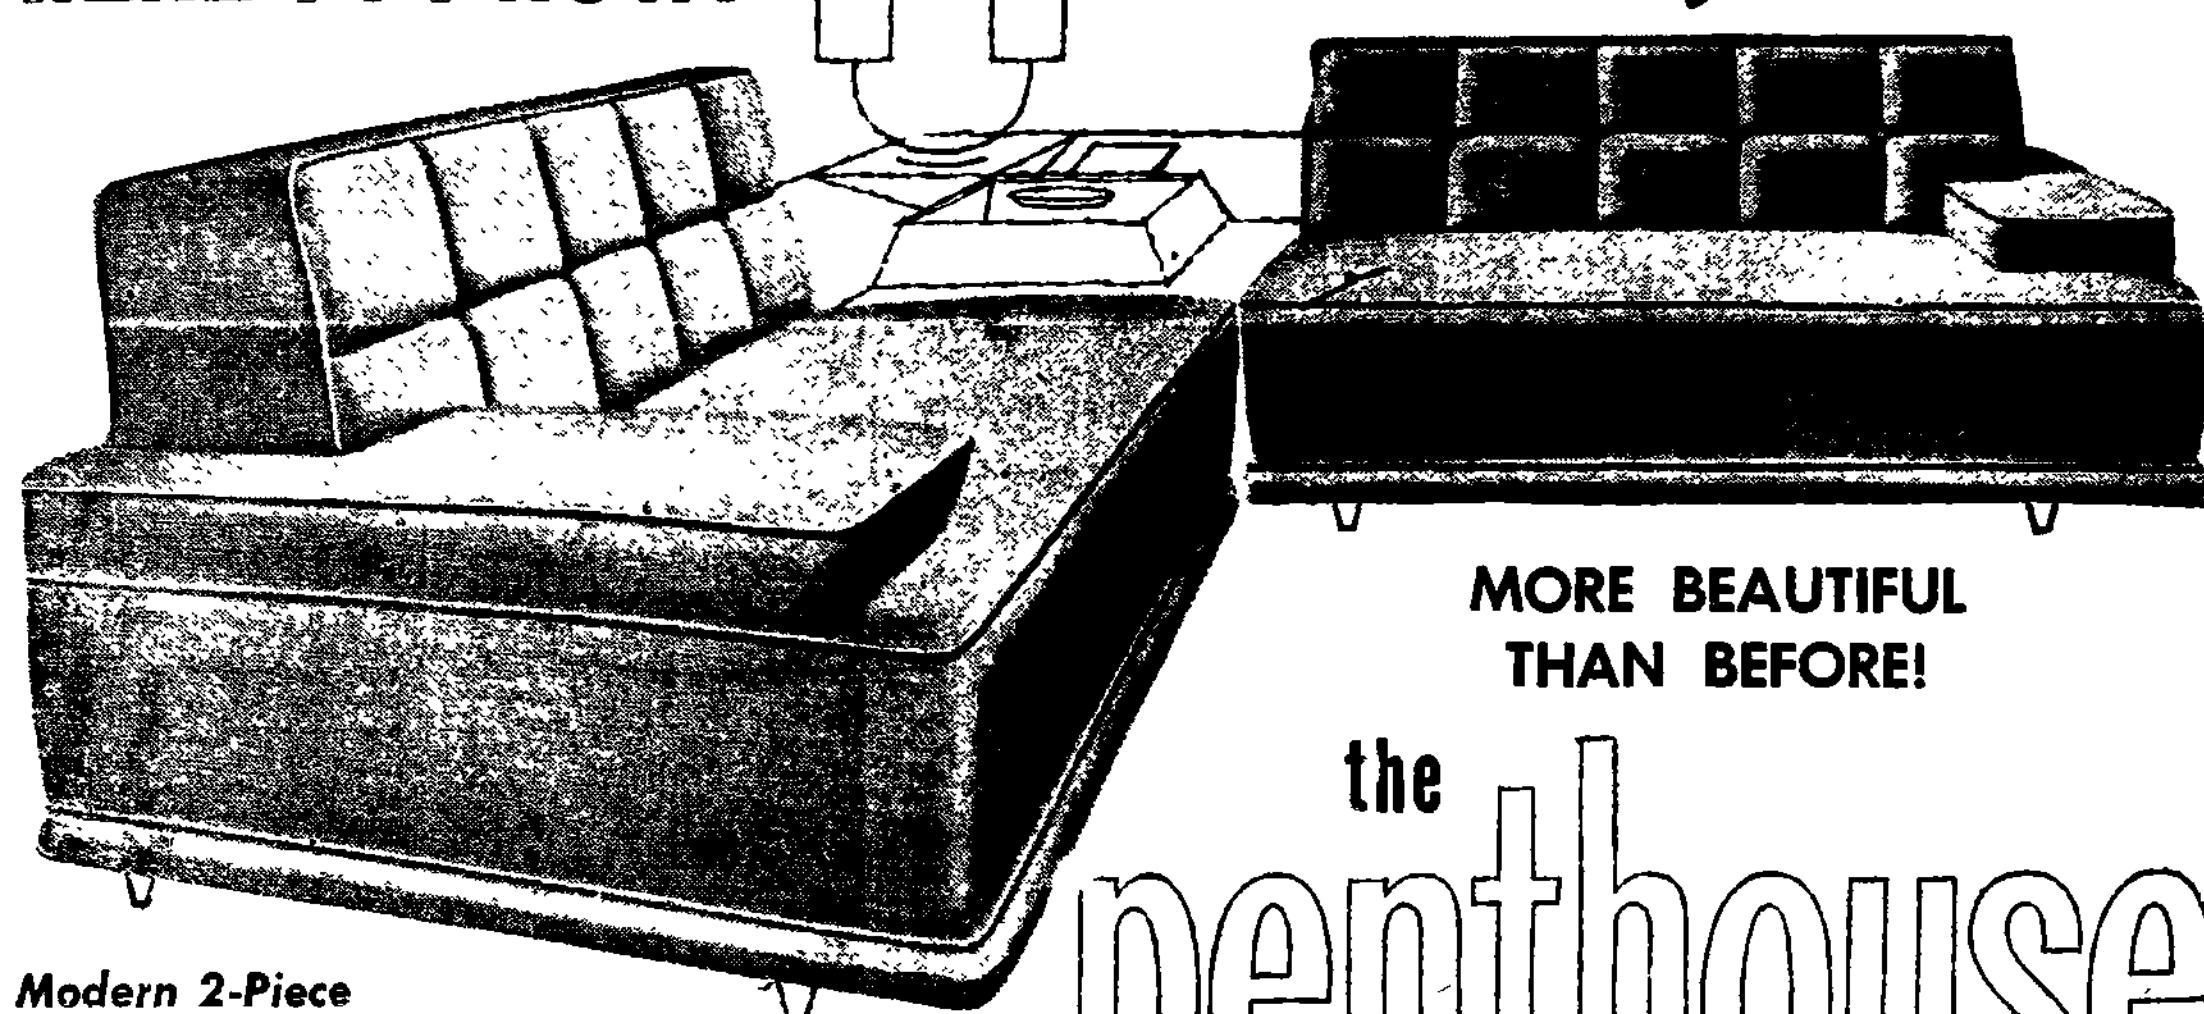

Lloyd Timmerman, 39, of Cheektowaga, N. Y., was rushed to an Erie Hospital. He died of burns this morning.

Bellgardt's truck was loaded with book matches. The cargo caught fire and the flames spread to Timmerman's vehicle, which was loaded with glassware.

Red Cross Chapter Officials Concerned Over Prospects of Reaching Goal in Campaign

Warren's Red Cross Fund has surpassed the $20,000 mark with a total reported this morning of $21,031.59. The goal was and is $26,117 and there is still hope that it may be reached.

Officials at Red Cross headquarters were optimistic that they might get at least $24,000 from sources yet outstanding but were rankly in doubt as to where the additional $2,000 or more might be found.

And, it was this that caused the greatest concern. It was this added amount, slightly more than $2,000, which was the sum to be set aside for the Red Cross gamma globulin program which is all-important for 1953.

The Red Cross has had 15 years experience in recruiting blood donors and collecting blood. Because of this experience and its vast network of regional blood centers and mobile units, the Red Cross was made the coordinating agency for defense blood collections in this new program from its own centers and from cooperating blood banks.

Three priorities have been established for this blood. First priority naturally goes to the needs of our armed forces, that is, to provide whole blood derivatives required on the field of battle in Korea. Also military hospitals at home and abroad. Next is the allocation of this precious fluid for the civilian sick and injured at home. The third priority provides for the establishment of a reserve supply of blood derivatives for use in case of enemy attack or other national emergencies.

Because of the importance of this blood donor work, especially the need for gamma globulin and its derivatives it is expected that the work of raising the complete quota will be waged relentlessly the last 10 days of March.

With slightly more than $5,000 to be raised it is hoped that those workers who still have outstanding reports will turn them into headquarters over the weekend and that those who still have calls, last years receipts, the quota for to make will make them in order that a thorough check of any far this year.

Award Is Presented U. S. Naval Reserve

U. S. Naval Reserve Division 3-68 of Jamestown, N. Y., received its permanent award for placing first in the Third Naval District inspection for the fiscal year 1951 during closing exercises at the Training Center Tuesday night.

Lt. Cmdr. Lewis M. Myers, inspector-instructor of the Jamestown unit, presented the award to Lt. Cmdr. Sidney W. Blackman, the division's commanding officer, on behalf of the command of the Third Naval District. In turn, Mr. Blackman received the award on behalf of the division personnel and acknowledged the cooperation and work that it took from each man to make this achievement possible.

Mr. Blackman also reminded his men that they placed third in 1952 with a higher mark than in 1951. The next district inspection for the Surface Division will be May 5, when it will be up to full complement for the first time since 1951. Although the quota is full, the division is still taking a few enlistees aboard each month.

Jaycees List a $363 Loss on Symphony Orchestra Project

A final report to the Junior Chamber of Commerce membership on the recent appearance of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra in Warren, given at last night's meeting of the group, revealed the Jaycees lost the sum of $363 on the project.

Charles Tranter, chairman of the music committee which handled the project, told the membership that despite the fine turnout of Warren music lovers, there were 131 tickets unsold. Because the Jaycees had priced the tickets so that a full house would pay expenses, the empty seats accounted for the deficit.

The Junior Chamber was fortunate to engage the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra of 90 musicians and their famous conductor, William Steinberg for a fee of $2,000, well below the usual price for such an engagement.

Rental of the auditorium, advertising, stage hands, and incidentals amounted to an additional $680. Total receipts were $2,517 and total expenses of the concert was $2,680.

The money lost on the concert will be taken care of from the special music fund which has been set aside by the Junior Chamber for the promotion of fine music in the city, but it was the opinion of many members that no further effort would be made to bring large symphony orchestras to Warren in the future.

The appearance of the Pittsburgh Symphony in Warren was the first visit of a major orchestra to this community since the year 1919, when the Cleveland orchestra played here. Leaving Warren and continuing on its tour, the Pittsburgh orchestra went to New York and received critical acclaim from that city's newspaper reporters.

WITHDRAWS AS CANDIDATE

In what was apparently a well-timed move, Mayor Tom R. Gardner Monday afternoon announced that he has withdrawn his nomination papers and will not be a candidate for re-election in Union City. With Mayor Gardner, who has served in that office for 20 years, bowing out of the picture, Harry Smiley, the only other candidate who took out papers, appears assured of election since he will be unopposed for the nomination and nomination on the GOP ticket is tantamount to election there.

TO GET UP AND GO
Christian Science Monitor

It's here again. The pre-spring stirring. The urge to get up and go.

The tempo of living has increased since Chaucer's day. March's magazines are on sale long before St. Valentine's Day. And the travel advertisements, with their distracting appeals to the holiday spirit, rouse in folk the longing to "goon on pilgrimages" weeks before "that April with his shoures sote" ushers in the traditional season of lyric wanderlust.

Yesterday's pilgrim is today's tourist, and yesterday's milk-white steed is apt to be today's strato-cruiser. Hence it is well, if not imperative, to get your wanderlust, like your Christmas shopping, early. Otherwise more provident and less impulsive travelers are apt to have reserved for themselves all the choice spots and the means of arriving at them.

No, things have speeded up since Mine Host of the Tabard gave way to the travel agency, and leisurely saunters changed to whirlwind tours. But the urge to get up and go is still the same, and comes, as Chaucer's successor, Shakespeare, put it, "before the swallow dares." But, then, the swallow doesn't have to make reservations.

RUSSIA'S SAILCLOTH FASHION PLATE

We note that Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, chief of staff of the Soviet armed forces, has been named one of the 11 best-dressed men in the world by the British magazine, Tailor and Cutter, male fashion authority.

Looking at pictures of Sokolovsky's gleaming chest, we can conclude only that this recognition comes after long and patient lobbying by the button and medal division of the garment trades.

However it came about, this honor is not likely to fall upon a Russian soon again if the new Soviet premier, Malenkov, has any influence upon Russian style. There are sack suits and then there are just sacks. The uniforms which envelop Malenkov's pachydermal frame could hold a lot of potatoes.

No. Malenkov never will be a fashion plate, even if he should try. But he might get somewhere in one of these "do it yourself" contests. Any one of his outfits could be Exhibit A in How to Make the Most of an Old Sailcloth.

Another of the worth-while projects sponsored by the Warren Chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for March 26, 27 and 28, when the annual Safety Campaign will be staged in Warren. "Jaycees Say Don't Jaywalk," will be the slogan and the public will find it to their advantage to cooperate. Cash awards, made available by local insurance firms, will be given cautious motorists each day.

Spiritual Diary for Lent

Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.—Matthew 6:10.

They never sought in vain that sought the Lord aright! —Robert Burns

Today's Message

The abiding motive and stimulus to prayer are found in fellowship with Christ. The man whose mind is set on low and immediate ends has little to pray about. He gets the things he wants easily enough. The Pharisees prayed to be seen of men, said Jesus; and they received their reward. They were seen. That was all they wanted, and they got it. So the man who lives for food and drink and clothes, gets these things. He has his reward. He feels no especial need for prayer. If he tries to pray, he begins to use vain repetitions.

It is the man, on the other hand, who has caught the vision of the new social order for which Christ lived and died, and who is seeking to follow Him in devotion to the Kingdom of God, who finds himself moved to prayer. He is living for ends that lie beyond immediate attainment; he is undertaking tasks that are too big for him alone; he comes to barriers that look impassable, and meets disappointments that are heartbreaking. Such a man comes to God in prayer; it is the most natural thing for him to do. There is no strain about it, no searching for things to say. He has common interests with God.

—LUTHER A. WEIGLE
Dean Emeritus, Yale University
Divinity School.

Today's Prayer

Almighty God, let us believe in the potency of Thy power; and, believing, let us pray for unselfish attainments that we may be brought closer to Thee in the final consummation of our hopes. Amen.

Here And There

Fifty years ago this week, according to the Youngsville correspondent of the Warren Weekly Times, "the street railroad bridge matter was the principal subject discussed at a meeting of the council in that village." The article further states:

"John A. Day, president of the road, had commenced to build the abutments and pier for the bridge across the creek in the Boro when he was ordered to stop the work until the matter was settled. C. H. Kay asked that time be taken to consider the matter, and a one day adjournment was taken. Last fall the Council gave the Youngsville and Sugar Grove Street Railroad Company a franchise in the streets of the Boro, and agreed to pay one-half of the expense of strengthening the bridge. An expert reported that the bridge would practically have to be rebuilt. Then Mr. Day, to lessen the expense to the Boro, called the stockholders together, and they agreed to build their own bridge if the Boro would put in the pier and abutment, for which the contract was let for $200. Had the Boro been held to the first contract it would have cost it nearly $2,000; under the present arrangement it will be but $400. Your correspondent is glad to say that only a few citizens are opposing the road coming into the town."

The official big game count, according to the individual tags returned by successful hunters in Pennsylvania last year, has been made by the Game Commission which reports these interesting totals: Legal antlered deer, 27,164 (includes 24 killed during the special archery season); antlerless deer, 37,829; legal bears, 261 according to individual reports. The big game bag in 1951 was: legal antlered deer (including 33 by archers), 34,582; legal antlerless deer, 37,952; legal black bear, 429.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★
Benson Favors Letting Farmer
Work Out His Own Problems
BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Representatives of the U. S. dairy industry are being called back to Washington for further conferences with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and Department of Agriculture experts on milk and butterfat support prices.

This is a follow-up action on a conference of 13 dairy industry leaders with Secretary Benson in mid-February. It was after this conference that Secretary Benson made his decision to support dairy prices at 90 per cent of parity for another year, beginning April 1. This decision came as something of a surprise. It had been generally expected that Secretary Benson would announce a much lower support level.

In a speech at St. Paul just before the dairy support-price announcement, Secretary Benson had declared that government support should be considered as disaster insurance only.

It was later revealed that the secretary's apparent inconsistency in finally approving continuation of the 90 per cent dairy supports was based on an appeal from the industry representatives. They asked for more time to work out some new program of their own.

The purpose of the second meeting with dairy industry representatives is to get them moving on developing their own program.

It is now estimated that the higher support level on dairy prices for the coming year may cost the federal government as much as $60 million. Butter bought by the government and kept off the market in storage for a year would have to be converted into oil and sold at a loss, or else given away.

It was to avoid this loss that serious consideration was given to lowering the support level. The lower price might have increased consumption and thus reduced the surplus.

So against what seemed to be his better judgment, the secretary announced continuation of the 90 per cent support program. This decision was made only after consideration by the new Agricultural Advisory Committee and the Eisenhower cabinet.

But the deciding factor was the assurance of dairy industry leaders that they would work out some better plan themselves.

This reliance on agricultural industry representatives to work out their own salvation without government subsidy is apparently to be a keystone of the new administration farm policy.

THE powers that have been given to the Secretary of Agriculture by law—his virtual control over the farm economy—had not been fully appreciated by Mr. Benson. Reluctance to assume these responsibilities is only natural to anyone not a bureaucrat at heart.

In spite of congressional agitation for continued and higher government supports as the solution to falling farm prices, Secretary Benson is known to feel that the farmers do not relish too much federal aid.

In the case of the livestock industry, this conclusion has been borne out by the cattlemen's decision against accepting supports to save them from oversupply and falling prices.

In the case of cotton and dairy products, it is realized that a revolution in consumer buying habits is going on.

Margarine is pricing butter out of the market. The high support price on butterfat has only aided the margarine situation. Synthetic fibers offer increasing competition to cotton.

Shifting the agricultural economy to meet all these changing conditions is the supreme challenge that confronts the Congress, the Department of Agriculture and the farmers themselves. But how this transition is to be effected within the Eisenhower administration's pledge for "full parity on a free market" has yet to be explained.

"The Beautiful Allegheny Valley"

(By JOHN SAGE)

CHAPTER SEVEN

What is now known as the Biddle estate and the Biddle state was originally composed of about five thousand acres of wild and. This was acquired by General William Irvine through a government land grant just previous to the turn of the eighteenth century, as remuneration for his valuable services. Later he deeded the eighteen hundred acres east of the Brokenstraw creek to his daughter, Mrs. Biddle. The improved level farm land of the Biddle estate, which is skirted by the river and Brokenstraw creek, exceeds a hundred acres all of which was one time under active cultivation, presenting a pleasing picture.

On this estate and in a suburb of the town of Irvine well shielded from the busy highway number six is the old time Biddle mansion gracefully sitting in an interesting grove of rugged trees many of which are a century old. To see his declining stately home with its beautiful natural surroundings that one time was kept most interestingly groomed, but is now neglected for the last dozen years, causes you to become absorbed in thoughtful interest that induces one to wander back through their window of recollections.

Melvin Sanberg and wife who is caretakers have resided on the property for the past twenty-seven years, no doubt, have cherished memories of when this beautiful antiquated place was maintained in the pink of condition. Yes, and there are probably some living today who formally attended social functions in this mansion that are left with lingering sweet memories. The land on which the town of Irvine was built, was originally a part of the Newbold estate and was quite properly named in honor of the General.

On this side of the river is a highway extending the length of my story route that will be found exceedingly interesting to drive in summer time. The greater portion of this road is elevated a considerable distance above the river, thereby providing long scenic views of the valley. The highway is improved for about half the distance and the balance is largely narrow dirt road but is a safe summer road for careful driving.

Now that my story on this side of the river is completed we will cross the river back to the Dream highway and continue my story from where I left off at the Suppa farm. Passing by a number of home-like cottages we arrive at L. T. Johnson's cozy home setting in a most attractively decorated plot of ground that borders on the high bank of the river. His neighbor, F. Scheerin has a real estate office close by the highway back of which is his very nice residence.

Next is the broad acres of the Nathaniel farm on which are many homes and cottages. One of the nice homes these is that of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rangers. Another is the substantial and artistic dwelling of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Sage with shrubbery that has enhanced its attractive appearance. The Nathaniels who maintain a nice home on their farm also operate a half dozen overnight cabins. The adjoining property is the Walter Toner farm. Here is where the popular cider mill that makes such good cider every season, so highly enjoyed by the lucky travelers of this valley, is located.

Just over the fence is the beautiful four and a half acre plot on which Ray Hertzel of Warren maintains a summer cottage, the pleasures and comforts of which he enjoys, judging from the frequency of his visits.

Now having reached the end of the trail at the bridge, I am pleased to acquaint you with the number of homes, cottages and over night cabins along the sixteen mile course of my story route, the actual count of which amounted to three hundred seventeen. Gentle readers of this story if you wish to verify statements and features contained in same, I suggest a pleasant leisurely motor trip over this course and don't forget to stop at 'Beauty Spot' for a view of nature's rustic scenery and enjoy a refreshing drink of the pure cold water from springs that never go dry.

As a closing feature of this story I wish to call your attention to the fact that not all of nature's beauties presented in this interesting valley are on display through the summer time. I am speaking with specific reference to the autumn that follows the fading summer, with its gorgeous display of green, yellow and gold foliage that spreads like a mantle over the valley and its climbing hills.

WARREN - JAMESTOWN ROAD
AT VENTURETOWN

All of which and more too, is so beautifully portrayed in the following article. While I regret the author's name is unknown to me you will readily recognize and appreciate his intelligent searching love of nature.

The owl has hooted in the evening darkness. The voice of autumn has echoed across the valley. There is no mistaking it now, for although the green world is still green it has the gleam of dogwood berries turned scarlet and the shine of goldenrod in the fence corners and the glow of little white asters on the meadow.

There is the cider smell of wind-fall apples in the orchard and the wine tang in the vineyard. You can close your eyes and know that the change is taking place. Ripeness is fulfillment, and it comes not at the peak of summer. It comes when the season begins to ease down the long hill toward winter and ice, when the days shorten and the stars of night begin to gleam in longer darkness.

Ripeness is a summation, of long, hot days and simmering sun and warm rain and the flash of lightning across the summer sky. It is the beauty of blossom brought to the succulence of fruit, the soft green of new stem toughened to the firm fiber of the reaching twig, the winged seed of a maple now rooted at the grass roots and finding sustenance in the soil.

Ripeness is September, warm at midday, chill at dusk and covered with cool dampness at dawn. The change is more than a matter of sunlight and daylength, for there is a rhythm in all growing things, a rest and a resurgence.

The seasons belong to that rhythm, as do the day and the night. But so does the apple, and so do the goldenrod and the asters. The peak is past. The wave of the great rhythm now begins to ebb, and the cricket sings, the owl hoots, the crows call querulously. You can hear autumn from any hillside.

My sincere wish is that this story leaves you with a bouquet of pleasant memories, that will follow through the years.

Tidioute, Penn'a.

Goldovsky's Opera Theatre May Lead Jaycees' Music Series Attractions

Boris Goldovsky's Opera Theatre may head the list of outstanding musical attractions being considered by the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce music committee for the 1953-54 season.

Presented entirely in idiomatic English, with a cast of seven good-looking American singers, Mozart's opera "Merry Menagerie" is offered by Opera Theatre, a three acts, each with a charming and colorful setting and fresh, aunts costumes. In true Mozartian fashion, Boris Goldovsky doubles as orchestral conductor and pianist in the pit, in addition to being responsible, with Sarah Caldwell, for the spirited staging.

Opera Theatre's principal singers are hand-picked by Goldovsky from auditions of the most promising professional talent in all parts of the country; its choral and orchestral personnel selected by him with equally painstaking care.

Mr. Goldovsky will be remembered by Warren music lovers for his program of "Piano Portraits" or the Jaycee music series. He is head of the opera department at Berkshire Music Center, director of the Opera School of the New England Conservatory of Music, and is heard each Saturday afternoon as commentator from the Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

John Haggerty and Tom Schorman, co-chairmen of the Jaycee music committee for the 1953-1954 season, this week mailed letters to the 1,000 members of the current series. An application blank was included in the letter and members who wish to renew for the next season are asked to send their order by March 31st.

This sale of membership is restricted to present ticket holders but a waiting list of applications has been established and will be taken care of if there are any vacancies in April.

Meanwhile, Charles Tranter, chairman for this season's series,

Being a Homemaker Is Not a Thankless Job

I RECEIVED this letter from a career-minded housewife:

"Several years ago I gave up my career to become a full-time wife, mother, and household drudge. It has been the most thankless job in the world.

"So I'm one wife who is starting out on a career for the second time."

Some women are so career-minded they don't find any satisfaction in being the homemaker for a family. Evidently the writer of this letter belongs to that small minority.

But if she is disillusioned with her try at being a full-time wife and mother simply because she found the job "thankless" she is being short-sighted.

Most homemakers don't get their "thanks" every day for a job well done anymore than a man hears every day how wonderful he is for earning the family's living.

THEIR PRESENCE IS ACCEPTED WITHOUT QUESTION

MOST homemakers are pretty much taken for granted when it comes to spoken appreciation from husbands and children. But they get their appreciation in other less obvious but more rewarding ways.

They know how well they have done their job when a child says: "I feel sorry for Jimmy. His mother is always so cross. I guess she doesn't like kids or want them around like you do."

They don't have to be told they are good housekeepers. A well-run house speaks for itself as a job well done.

They don't have to have a husband constantly telling them how much they are appreciated. If he stands by in times of trouble, uncomplainingly supports his family, likes his home, and is good to his wife and children, he is saying "Thank you" in his own way.

So it is rather short-sighted of a woman to decide that homemaking is a thankless job just because she feels she isn't getting her share of praise every day.

If she is a good wife, mother and homemaker, the world can see for itself what she is. Being a full-time wife and mother isn't the most thankless job in the world. It's the most rewarding.

FARMINGTON GRANGE
Lander—Master Lynn Burgett presided for the regular meeting of Farmington Grange No. 839, when Ralph Babcock was initiated in the third and fourth degrees. A donation was voted to the Red Cross and a list of proposed community projects was read. It was announced Mrs. Grace Peterson, Long Beach, Calif., will receive her Golden Sheaf Certificate for 50 years' continuous membership.

For the program, Mrs. Florence Sturdevant gave a reading, "Our Daily Bread", and Mrs. Alene Burgett read a poem, "Building the Bridge Alone". At the next meeting, March 26, a program feature will be an old fashioned spelling bee.

FAMILY GATHERING MARKS BIRTHDAY
Barnes—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Silvis was the scene of another delightful gathering, when members of the family came with well-filled baskets, gifts and greetings to help their mother celebrate her birthday anniversary. There were 32 present for the sumptuous dinner served about seven o'clock featuring several beautiful birthday cakes.

Akeley WSCS Has Plans In Prospect For Varied Events

Akeley Methodist WSCS held a busy March meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Randall, with Mrs. Arthur Bradley as co-hostess and Mrs. Victor Granquist, president, in charge.

The worship topic, "For You We Have Come", opened with a hymn, "Come, Thou Fount", with scripture, a devotional reading, "In Remembrance", given by the president, assisted by Mrs. Carl Nelson, Mrs. Victor Lundmark and Mrs. Edward Miller. All joined in the Circle of Prayer, followed by The Lord's Prayer, a hymn, "Break Thou the Bread of Life".

Roll call showed 12 members and three visitors in attendance. Following the routine reports and other business, announcement was made of the fourth quarterly conference and fellowship supper, for which Russell church members were guests. Another announcement concerned the Easter sunrise service, to be held in the Akeley church with Russell as visitors for the service and breakfast. Mrs. Algot Lundgren, secretary of local activities, will be in charge.

It was reported the Akeley president will have the morning devotions and Mrs. Edward Miller, recording secretary, will sing a solo for the Sub-district meeting to be held at Sugar Grove March 24.

Mrs. Arthur Bradley, spiritual life secretary, led the responsive reading of three chapters of Acts, followed by discussion, and Mrs. Miller sang "In Times Like These", accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Weg. Members were reminded there will be election of officers at the April meeting and installation in May, with the new year starting in June. Miteboxes were turned in, with Mrs. Halie Hot in charge of the ceremony. After dues and offerings had been received, Mrs. Holt, program chairman, presented the following program numbers:

Poem and an article on "Working Tools", Mrs. Holt; an amusing song about the Methodist Women's Magazine, by Mrs. Miller; reading, "A Fair Chance", from the Christian Herald, and a story, "Sheep on the Highway", Mrs. Holt. The visitation committee reported making four calls, and the meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Algot Lundgren. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Leland Haller at 8:00 p. m. April 8, with Mrs. Vinton Finzer as co-hostess. "O" will be the letter for memory verses and Acts 21, 22 and 23 will be the Bible study.

A tennis court built in 1929 by King Henry VIII, of England, at Hampton Castle, still is in use today.

LENTEN TEA

The WSCS of Epworth Methodist church sponsored a Lenten Tea in the church Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Oscar Granquist, WSCS president, opened with prayer the devotional period in charge of Mrs. John Walters.

For the program, the group was favored with two vocal selections by Mrs. Merenick and Mrs. John Smith, with Mrs. George McGhee at the organ. Mrs. Harold Lindquist, Youngsville, was guest speaker for the occasion, giving a very interesting talk on "What Lent Means To Me".

The services was brought to a close with the congregation singing a hymn, after which tea was served in the social room.

Bride of Warren Man

At high noon Wednesday, March 18, in The Church of the Covenant, East 42nd street, New York City, Mrs. Barbara Wilson Horton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Perry I. Wilson, Fitchburg, Mass., became the bride of Charles W. S. DeFrees, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hutton DeFrees, 504 Liberty street, this city. White spring flowers formed the setting for the simple single ring ceremony read by Dr. Rosche, pastor, in the presence of the immediate family, and the church organist played traditional nuptial music.

Attractively attired in a gray spring suit, with navy accents and corsage of white orchids, the bride's only attendant was Mr. DeFrees' sister, Miss Anne DeFrees, New York City. Joseph M. DeFrees, Warren, was his brother's best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeFrees entertained with a lunch at the St. Regis, where guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Heelan and son, Raymond, Jr., Moorestown, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Goodnow, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Townsend, Leominster, Mass.

Following a wedding trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. DeFrees will reside at 504 Liberty street, to be at home to friends after May 15.

The bride, graduate of LaSalle Junior College, Auburndale, Mass., has been employed as secretary at Christ Episcopal Church in Fitchburg, and more recently as office manager for Ralph S. Foster and Son, real estate and insurance in that city. Her affiliations include membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mr. DeFrees, who has his own photographic studio at 507 Liberty street, has served on the summer school faculty at Chautauqua, and is an Associate Fellow of the Royal Photographic Society of Great Britain.

Mrs. John Urbaitis Re-elected Head Of Club's Section

Mrs. John Urbaitis was re-elected chairman of the Woman's Club Community Service Department at the final meeting of this group. Chosen with her on the slate prepared by the nominating committee and read by Mrs. Bloom, were Mrs. David Potter, vice chairman; Mrs. William Glassman, secretary.

Mrs. Urbaitis opened the business session and Miss Mary Craft, chairman of the Drama Department, announced her unit's final meeting on Monday will feature the music of the Philomel Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Joseph DeFrees. The program will be in the nature of a concertized version of the familiar Blaset opera "Carmen".

The chairman then presented Prof. George Free, of Pennsylvania State College, who spoke on "Conservation". He gave a most interesting and instructive lecture, pointing out that the prosperity and standard of living of this country depend, in very great measure, on the conservation of our natural resources, including soil, forests, waters, minerals, and wild life.

He emphasized that the proper use of all these things is related, and that disintegration and demoralization of a community follow in the wake of dissipation of its resources, while the reverse process occurs when steps are taken to repair damage already done. A helpful question and answer period followed, in which Prof. Free answered some important queries.

Hostess for tea was Mrs. Marshall Bucklin, with Mrs. Harry Conarro and Mrs. Henry Luce presiding at the attractive table.

Past Presidents Of Irvinedale PTA Honored at Party

Irvinedale PTA held its annual Family Night dinner last evening at the school, with about 200 persons in attendance.

The dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock from tables attractively decorated in shamrocks and green runners. Charles Knapp, chairman, and his committee of men made and served the coffee and dessert.

At eight o'clock, the regular PTA meeting was called by the president, Mrs. Gerald Wallin, who also conducted the devotions. The meeting was then turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Archie Hunter, who directed a ceremony honoring past presidents of the unit: Jay Pees, Mrs. Philip Hohman, Mrs. Gerald Schimmel-feng, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Howard Whitmire, Mrs. C. Hultman, Mrs. Kenneth Fowler, Howard Landers and George Johnson.

Every one of the past presidents was in attendance and was remembered with a corsage or boutonniere of green carnations. The Irvinedale Girls' Chorus sang a special selection in honor of the group, with Mrs. G. M. Borg accompanying at the piano. Pictures were taken by Archie Hunter.

The ceremony, the second of its kind, will be continued as a feature of each annual Family Night meeting.

Einar Anderson and Howard Fox, well known comedy team, entertained with a 45-minute program of fun for all. Their magic tricks and clowning was much enjoyed by old and young.

Gerald Archibald, finance chairman, and Charles Knapp conducted a very successful white elephant sale, and, to round out the program, Jack Huckabone and Sandra Johnson, played several pleasing accordion numbers.

BIRTHDAY CLUB
Jolly Ten Birthday Club members held their March meeting at the home of Mrs. Gordon Johnson, with a twelve dinner enjoyed by nine members. During a short business session, it was voted to send a contribution to the Crippled Children's Association. The April meeting will be held with Mrs. Dewey Somers.

Interesting Letter Written By Local Man Aboard Warship "On the Rolling Atlantic"

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Moore, 116 Prospect street, have received a letter from their son Petty Officer Paul F. Moore, aboard the SS Morris, portions of which contain interesting accounts of his experiences on the battleship after leaving port for a voyage at sea "on a clear cold morning in February." He says among other things:

On the rolling Atlantic. Here are a few lines to you all from us all to let you get an idea of the situations here aboard.

One clear cold February morning the ship made all preparations for putting to sea. There was the high pitched whine of the blower giving more air for more combustion as we got a back-down bell and pulled away from the ship next to us. Then there were bells (engine speeds) for 1/4 and then 3/8 ahead and we headed for the open sea.

Word was passed to make all preparations for heavy weather and things were put away, and others lashed (tied) down so nothing would roll around when we went up and down or rolled back and forth over the water.

Heading in a southerly direction, we ran into warmer weather in a day or two.

Not much stormy weather was encountered but there were and still are large waves; at times, greater and also lesser. A feed pump, one of those things that supplies water or feeds water to the boilers in the forward fire room, burned out a bearing. The boiler forward was secured and a second lit in the aft fire room personnel gained by that. Whereas they had stood four hours on, an eight hour off watch, now they stood four and twelve which gives every other night a full night's sleep. I don't recall that ever happening at sea for boiler-men.

Comes the dawn and we are to refuel and exchange mail with a tanker headed for the continent of North America.

Our position this morning was 1200 miles from Newport. The nearest land is still Bermuda, 720 miles astern, while the Azores are 1330 miles to the northeast and Gibraltar 1750 miles ahead. On leisure time sailors may be seen sewing patches or shortening or just little mending of rents, reading, letter writing or playing games.

We were to refuel the last few days but the ocean won't cease to roll. You can hear the creek and squeaking of the lines and their supports which suspend them from the overhead (ceiling) as the lines swing when the ship goes to and fro.

Some fellow had some of Lipton's (Arthur Godfrey's) noodle soup previously purchased ashore. If he could but have had a photo of sailors enjoying his hot soup. Standing out in the warm bright sunshine near the fantail near a hatch stood some fellows watching to see if the next wave was coming over. One swept high and all headed for the hatch (doorway to landlubbers) and they jammed it, neither getting in or out. The wave didn't come up much and they got untangled. One fellow remarked, "If I run for the hatch, they don't come over, but if not, they do. Quite a game, yet exciting."

More Out-of-Town Performers For Parade of Magic

Two more out of town performers have been added to the program for the Parade of Magic to be given Saturday, April 18, as a benefit for the International Scout Troop of Warren-Forest Council.

One is Hildum the Magician and his Marvels of Mystery, who comes from Jamestown and will be making his first appearance in Warren. Recently released from active duty with the armed services, Hildum will bring to the Parade of Magic a colorful panorama of delightful illusions, including the vanishing of a bird cage in mid-air and a floating mummy.

At the same time, the show committee announces the engagement of Sherma, renowned magical entertainer. Sherma is the famed magician from nearby Kane, who is in great demand throughout this area. He is no stranger to Warren, having appeared on a previous Cavalcade of Mystery, but will, as usual, bring something entirely new and exciting to this year's full evening of magic and comedy. As announced last week, the April benefit show will star two top performers from Buffalo, Gene Gordon and Bill Wahl. These two, along with Sherma and Hildum, guarantee an evening of enchantment not soon to be duplicated in this city. However, the scout committee promises the show is still not complete and additional announcements are to come soon.

At least one more out of town act is to be booked and at least three performers from Warren are to be included. Within a few days, the Parade of Magic list should be complete and several interesting surprises definitely arranged.

In addition to the two-hour evening presentation, there will be a special matinee showing to which all youngsters will be admitted at a special rate. The Girl Scouts will be selling tickets for both performances in the near future and ask friends to hold open the date of April 18 for this entertaining event.

There's Economy in These Beef Cuts

Surveys show that the average homemaker makes use of less than 10 per cent of the scores of available meat cuts. Since price per pound is affected by this demand for a comparatively few cuts, it is evident that she is overlooking many cuts that would help to stretch her meat dollar. Because meat is the center of the meal and is important in the food budget, it is of distinct advantage to be familiar with as many cuts as possible. The above chart presents a graphic picture of less-demanded beef cuts and their origin. The shaded areas, representing 60 per cent of the carcass, are sources of these lesser-known cuts. Unshaded areas provide the cuts in most popular demand. In addition to their price advantage, the less-demanded cuts afford increased variety in the menu, and are as rich in nutritive value as the more demanded cuts.

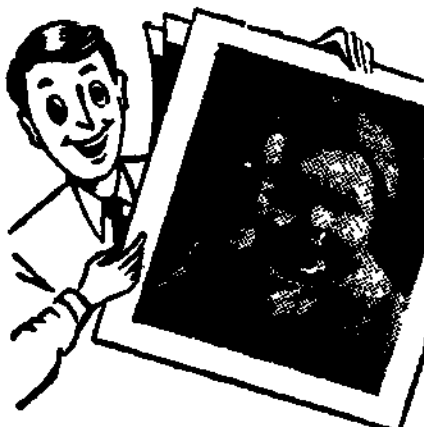

Wage and Hour Act Is Not Affected By Lifting of Controls

Philadelphia — Employers throughout Pennsylvania, Maryland and Delaware today were warned by a government spokesman that the termination of wage controls on April 30 does not affect the Wage and Hour law. William Hargadine, Jr., regional director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions said that some employers may erroneously feel that they are no longer bound to pay employees the minimum wage of 75c an hour and time and a half for all hours over 40 per week. "Early in the wage and salary stabilization program, the Wage-hour Divisions did some of the information and investigation work for these bureaus," Hargadine said, "and for that reason some employers may have the erroneous impression that the Fair Labor standards Act or Wage and Hour law may also expire April 30th." "However, I wish to emphasize that the Wage-Hour law and the Economic Stabilization Act are entirely different statutes or Acts of Congress and in no way are they related to one another," Hargadine explained. Enacted in 1938, the Federal Wage-hour law restricts the employment of child labor and requires a minimum of 75c an hour and time and a half the regular rate of pay for those hours of a workweek exceeding 40. It covers employees engaged in interstate commerce, in the production of goods for interstate commerce or in work closely related and directly essential to interstate commerce.

Bulletin Received by C. of C. Warns of Fake Solicitors in Portrait Photography

The Warren Chamber of Commerce, through its executive vice president, Nat W. Drake, has issued a warning to the public to beware of a minority of photo studios which practice chicanery in the methods of doing business. The warning was based on a bulletin from the National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber of Commerce is affiliated in its work to protect the public from fraud and misrepresentation.

"Photographers are artists, and depend on their skill and fair dealing to hold a permanent place in the community. Although the majority of those engaged in portrait photography are honest, there are a number of opportunists in the field who do resort to unfair and deceptive practices."

The "Frame-Up" is among the more deceptive practices. In this scheme the photographer's canvassers secure orders quoting a reasonable rate for photos but also committing the customer to purchase a special type frame, such as convex, concave, hexagonal, or a very fancy price. "It's down to the small print, which most people don't trouble to read."

One of the most vicious practices of photo racketeers involves the reproduction of photos and the sale of sentimental value.

according to the National Better Business Bureau files. The customer is induced to part with a unique and precious photo for reproduction or restoration in hand painted colors. Once in the possession of the unethical photographer, the photo can become "lost" unless the customer orders an expensive frame, more copies of the reproduction than the work warrants, etc. Sometimes, in the case of the fake solicitor, the original ends in the ashcan or a hotel waste basket and the customer has only a phoney receipt in exchange for a down payment.

"Promise of large royalty returns from inclusion of a child's photo in a so-called 'model album' leads to a lot of headaches," Mr. Drake said. "Surveys made by the National Better Business Bureau indicate that few advertising agencies utilize photos in such 'model albums' despite the sales talk of the photo canvassers to induce the proud parents to order photos. This old gag is used on many parents who have an understandable belief that junior 'ought to be in pictures'."

Many legitimate photographers distribute "free" coupons entitling holders to a sample portrait. "This is simply a method of showing the customer what good work can be done. "The trouble starts, in the case of the unethical studio, when the customer wants only the 'free' or 'bargain' portrait. All studios count on getting a sizeable order from the work demonstrated. However, if the customer wants only the coupon portrait, the honest studio will absorb the loss as part of its business. The unfair studio will use pressure methods to force a big sale, making it practically impossible to obtain the 'introductory' portrait unless such an order is obtained."

"Such unfair tactics should be reported at once to the Chamber of Commerce. Only by reporting complaints can the public protect itself from such operators."

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH the alkaline (non-acid) powder on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks plate odor (denture breath). Prices Lifted From Numerous Commodities in Latest Order

New York (AP) — More price hikes and price drops pepper the news today. Coffee, sugar, onions, wool, soybean oil, some metals and chemicals are taking the high road. Veal chops, sheets, and some metals are heading for the low road. It's all part of the readjustment to decontrol, which finds most commodities in too ample supply to budge either way.

Coffee roasters are hiking wholesale prices by two to four cents a pound. In the last two weeks wholesale prices have been boosted by four to six cents. The rise reflects the jump in price of green beans in Brazil, where demand is said to be outstripping supply.

Sugar prices have gone up 25 cents a hundredweight at wholesale and U. S. prices are now almost double those in the world market where there is a surplus.

This is because the U. S. government has an effective quota-system control of prices and wants them high to protect domestic sugar producers. The government says how much sugar can be imported, and thus can raise or lower prices at will. Outside the United States there are huge supplies going at a bargain to foreign users.

Raw wool prices are up five per cent this week to a new seasonal peak on the Australian auctions as British and Japanese bid against each other. This could add a little to the upward pressure on clothing next fall, especially if labor costs rise as many expect. Union contracts are being negotiated now.

Many manufacturers in other lines are facing higher material costs.

Against these rises, however, is the cheering news that the cost of tin cans won't be going up during the canning season. U. S. Steel Corp. announces today it's holding the price line on tinplate at least through September.

Record Number of Kilowatt Hours For Penelec Customers

Pennsylvania Electric Company customers were supplied with a record 2,326,466,022 kilowatt hours of electricity in 1952, President O. Titus said in the company's annual report released today.

The 1952 sales figure is 105,127,000 kwh greater than that of 1951. Number of customers also reached a new high, with 6,241 added last year bringing the total to 330,101.

Increased sales and the first general rate boost in more than 28 years yielded operating revenues of $50,747,491, up $4,308,872 over 1951, but taxes and operating expenses continued to increase sharply. Net income amounted to $8,177,529, an increase of $1,560,602 from the $6,596,927 reported in 1951. The company had an investment of $207,045,453 in plant at the end of 1952 compared to $187,699,613 the previous year. The total tax bill of $9,393,463 was $821,889 more than 1951. Of each dollar received by Penelec, taxes took 18½ cents. Greater output

DEFENDS FEE—Republican National Chairman C. Wesley Roberts, above, has appeared before a special state legislative committee at Topeka, Kans., to defend his $11,000 fee for selling a building to the state of Kansas. Roberts represented the firm owning the building. The committee is attempting to determine if he broke lobbying laws.

and higher labor and material costs pushed operating and maintenance expenses to $25,663,638, topping the 1951 figure by $1,711,877. Fuel, the largest single item of expense, cost $9,456,409, up $354,359 due to increased generation and higher coal prices.

A vast expansion program to assure an adequate supply of electricity for its customers continued in 1952, with $24,000,000 going for that purpose. The company has spent $103,000,000 since January 1, 1946 and $40,000,000 is earmarked this year for the construction program. The company sold $19,000,000 in securities in 1952 and expects to sell more than that amount in 1953 to help finance construction.

Among major projects completed in 1952 was an addition to the Front Street generating station in Erie at a cost of $12,000,000. Progress was made on the Shawville generating station near Clearfield which will be the largest in the company's system when completed in 1954 at a cost estimated at $40,000,000. Several major transmission lines are under construction and should be completed this year. For location of future generating stations, Penelec in 1952 purchased a 500-acre site at North Girard on Lake Erie and a smaller tract near Kittanning on the Allegheny River.

Sales to the company's 228,800 residential customers increased 11.6% to a total of $79,936,000 kilowatt hours. The average annual use increased to 2,023 kwh, an increase of 169 from the 1,854 reported at the end of 1951.

Wages paid in 1952 to all employees, including $2,535,297 to those engaged in construction, amounted to $13,038,763, higher by $702,376 than 1951. New wage rates effective last May accounted for most of the increase. Penelec employed 3,015 people at year end including 32 in military service.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Dick Harrison Dies Suddenly In Her Girlhood Home

MRS. RICHARD HARRISON

Death came suddenly to the old forlorn homestead in Walnut street at 2:15 p. m. Wednesday and claimed Barbara Veronica Harrison, the wife of Richard W. Harrison, in the house where she was born almost 49 years ago.

Mrs. Harrison suffered a fall on Tuesday and, upon the advice of her physician, had remained in her room pending recovery. A cerebral hemorrhage caused her sudden passing. She was born July 2, 1904.

The deceased, daughter of the late Alexander R. and Anna (Gates) Harrison, was a lifelong resident of the West End where the family was among the pioneers of that section. Known as one of the own's most attractive young women during her girlhood, she was popular and well liked during her entire lifetime. After being employed at New Process, Mrs. Harrison went to the United Reinery as switchboard operator from 1925 until 1930, where her pleasant voice became known to the hundreds of United customers. In January of this year Mrs. Harrison went back to United as relief operator for a few weeks after an absence of 23 years, saying it was one of the most pleasurable experiences in her memory. Mrs. Harrison was the devoted mother of a splendid family.

On August 30, 1930, the deceased became the wife of Richard William Harrison of Jamestown, who survives her, together with six children: Mrs. E. J. Hughes (Mary Ann Harrison) of Youngstown, Ohio; Alexander John, Rita Marie, Joan, Patricia and Barbara Lou, all at the family home, 23 Walnut street. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. A. L. Peterson, 28 Walnut street, and Mrs. LaMonte Culbertson, 219 Oneida avenue; and two brothers, Charles J. Morrison of 113 Walnut street, and Raymond F. Morrison of 412 Prospect street. One son, Richard, Jr., preceded his mother in death as did Mrs. Harrison's sisters, Miss Alice Morrison and Mrs. George Wells, and one brother, Reno Morrison. There is one surviving uncle, Edward Kent of Hinsdale, N. Y., and one aunt, Mrs. John Geise of Olean, N. Y.

Mrs. Harrison was active in the American Legion Auxiliary, and was also a member of St. Joseph's church, the Catholic Daughters of America, McClintock PTA, and the PTA unit at St. Joseph's school.

The Catholic Daughters of America, McClintock PTA, and the PTA unit at St. Joseph's school, will meet at the Leo D. Gibson Funeral Home at 8:45 tonight to recite the Catholic Daughters Rosary. The Parish Rosary will be recited at the funeral home at 8:45 p. m. Friday. Visiting hours at the funeral home will start at seven o'clock tonight.

Mrs. Harrison's funeral will be in St. Joseph's, where she was a faithful member all her life, at 10 a. m. Saturday with Rev. Alfred Bauer, the rector, officiating. Commitment will be in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery.

BISHOP IS SPEAKER FOR HOLY WEEK

Bishop G. D. Monday through Thursday, with the traditional Good Friday service in First Methodist church.

Improvement Noted In Veteran Hurt in Crash

Mrs. E. H. Shattenberg, Pittsburgh RD 1, reports some slight improvement in the condition of her nephew, Edward Dean Schimp, of Bradford, who was seriously injured last Sunday morning in an automobile accident.

The 23 year old Korean veteran son of Raymond Schimp, was admitted to Bradford Hospital at 12:45 a. m. Sunday with a broken right arm, multiple cuts about the face and body, and possible internal injuries.

The accident took place between Prentissville and Rixford, about 1,000 feet from the Duke Center intersection, and young Schimp's car, a 1950 Buick sedan, was damaged to the extent of an estimated $1,400.

Among those who have visited him at the hospital since the accident are Mr. and Mrs. Shattenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rex, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rex; also his brother, Theodore, who came home from Army camp on four-day leave.

Sons and Daughters Guests at Lions Dinner

A chalk talk by Maurice Shoup, entitled "Comics Is a Funny Business", was enjoyed by 50 Lions Club members and their sons or daughters at the annual Father and Son banquet held at the YWCA last evening.

Mr. Shoup traced the history of the comic strips from 1896 to the present day, using chalk and explaining how they developed.

For the remainder of the program, which was arranged by Dr. A. A. Marosca, there was a comedy movie and group singing. Lions President James Mazzu was the master of ceremonies.

topics—balancing the budget. He said you hear a lot of talk about tax reduction first, and then a balanced budget, but that he wants to go in the opposite direction.

After Eisenhower invited questions, a reporter remarked that the President, at each of his earlier news conferences, had made friendly gestures toward Russia. He was asked whether as a result the Soviet Union had any move to open peace negotiations.

The President replied that the only thing he had was what everyone had seen in the newspapers. He recalled that last December Stalin said he was favorably disposed to the idea of an Eisenhower-Stalin conference, and that the State Department had then announced Russia was always welcome to put forth such overtures through the proper channels.

Asked whether there had been any such overtures through such channels—Eisenhower replied none that had reached him.

Maple Sugar Party And Program Given By Scouts at Akeley

Akeley Grange hall was the scene last evening of a maple sugar party and program given annually for Boy Scouts and their wives.

With Council President Byron W. Knapp serving as master of ceremonies, and assisted by Commissioner William Wehner, the opening ceremony was presented by Cubs and Scouts of Akeley.

The Harmony Boys, a quartette of young musicians, playing western type music, literally brought down the house with their lively renditions.

The remarks of Stanley Trevener, transplanted Englishman, were interesting and informative, comparing not only Scouting but the English way of life with the American.

A quartette of Sheffield Scouts, presenting the "Fatal Quest", received prolonged applause for their simple humor, and were followed by the Youngsville Maestros, a barbershop quartette, who closed the program with fine close harmony.

The Akeley Troop committee, their wives, and troop members, served the lunch which consisted of the traditional maple syrup, baking powder biscuits, sour pickles and coffee. Francis Lewis was chairman for the evening.

Boat Involved in Lake Tragedy Owned Here

Discovery of a boat used by Ronald L. Pell, 18, of Silver Creek, and William Reardon, 16, of Westfield, who were drowned two weeks ago in Lake Erie, revealed that it was the property of James E. Gnagney, Conewango and Third, Warren.

While the bodies were recovered during the week-end, the boat was found on Tuesday and Mr. Gnagney was notified by New York State Police. He said today that it had been left in the yard of his cottage at Portland, N. Y., and thought it possible the outboard motor the boys had used was too heavy for the boat, a 14-foot tar-topped flat bottom rowboat. He said the boat was not meant to be used in rough weather.

Reports from Silver Creek were to the effect that the boys had taken an outboard motor, cars and life preservers from the boathouse of Edgar Terrill, a brother of the Pell boy.

The boys had been missing since March 3, the day the unoccupied boat was seen drifting in the lake by the captain of a fishing tug, but their disappearance was not reported until March 7 because they had often gone to visit relatives.

Director Nominations Are Received at Busy Session

cepted the Canteen and the little consideration that has been given to its far reaching accomplishments. A good discussion followed and an 11-man committee was appointed to investigate the situation and consider accepting the sponsorship. On the committee are Geiger, chairman, Swartz, Charles Tranter, Allen Anderson, Jack Gay, Richard Krapfel, Glen Nelson, George Templeton, James Bailey, Harry Segel and John Smith.

Bill Lutz, secretary of the Fourth of July Committee, reported that two meetings had been held to date and the next session would be March 26, when a good turnout of members was hoped for. He also stated that letters have been written to the top Class A American Legion and VFW drum corps in the tri-state area with intentions of securing the finest competition this year.

The Jaycee membership endorsed Glen Nelson, well-known local and state Jaycee figure, as their candidate for District One Governor. Earl Abel, who is managing Nelson's campaign, reported what steps had been taken in this line and accounted on a district meeting held in Butler and a meeting of the district steering committee in Tarentum last Sunday. The election will take place at the State Jaycee Convention in Pittsburgh May 1-2, when it is expected over 20 from the local chapter will attend.

President Fino announced that Gerald Huber had been elected treasurer, and Myron King, secretary, of the 1953-54 Music Committee. John Haggerty and Tom Schorman had already been selected co-chairmen. Chairman for the present series, Charles Tranter, gave a report on the Pittsburgh Symphony Concert, which also can be found elsewhere in this evening's paper.

In the absence of Chairman Leroy Schneck, Fino stated that the Air Fair has been set tentatively for the first week in June.

Installation Dinner chairman, Gerald Huber, gave a brief report and said that working with him are Ross Ruhlman, Tom Hamilton, Paul Simonsen, and Robert Geiger. President Fino also announced that Dick Krapfel has been appointed to replace Gordon Elmquist on the Board of Directors, the latter having been recalled into the service, and an audit committee consisting of James Torrance, John Haggerty and James Ryberg has been selected. James Potter was the new member received at the meeting and was presented with a Jaycee pin.

of the twin pact before he goes to the United States for a state visit April 6.

In the first parliamentary skirmish of the day, Adenauer won. The house voted down a Socialist motion to throw the treaties off the day's agenda.

The treaties are the Allied-Bonn Peace Contract, giving West Germany near-sovereignty, and the six-nation European Defense Community pact, setting up a unified Western European army. Germany would contribute 500,000 men to the one-uniform force.

Approval of the treaties — a major step in Adenauer's efforts to lead West Germany into a unified Europe—would give the Chancellor added prestige during his Washington talks next month with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

home from his work as a woodsman, jumped from his truck, secured a rack stake from the truck and beat the bull off his brother. Dick Morrison of Kinzua, said today that he was at the Collins farm shortly after the attack and believed the bull would have killed both men had it not been for Roland Collins' quick action. The injured man was rushed to the hospital in Templeton's ambulance.

The Collins farm is located near Kinzua Creek on the Dew Drop road.

Section Two's Candidate in PIAA Class A State Tourney Wins Over Sharpville, 52 to 49

Section Two's candidate in this year's PIAA Class A state basketball tournament, copped the District 10 title last night by squeezing by Sharpville, 52-49. It was a repeat performance for the Meadville Bulldogs, who won by a similar margin last year over Sharpville, and snapped a 23-game win streak.

The contest was the final schoolboy district playoff and takes Meadville in the quarter-finals against Westinghouse. After winning the District Eight crown, Westinghouse went on to defeat Bradford (District Nine), 6-55, earlier this week.

Yeadon, a Delaware County Class B high school, trounced Harrisburg John Harris, 59-44, last night to become the first regional finalist. The so-called "Cinderella Team" of the 1953 playoffs, Yeadon is headed for a new Eastern championship.

Johnstown won last night, but will be the underdog when it faces Sharon (District Seven) in a Saturday night dogfight. Sharon is favored to make the trip to Philadelphia as the Western champion. At the same time, the Pennsylvania Catholic Interscholastic Association was assured of a new Class A state champion as Allentown Central was eliminated from the 1953 playoffs by Reading Central, 54-45.

Erie Cathedral Prep won the Western Class A crown with a fourth quarter rally for a 54-49 decision over Johnstown Catholic. In Class B Erie Kanty Prep has won a Western finalist berth.

The Class A championship game is set for Erie Tuesday night, with the Class B finale in the East March 27.

Pirates Make First Cuts in 1953 Squad

Havana, Cuba (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates have made the first cut in their roster, optioning catcher Bill Hall to their Class AA New Orleans club.

The 24-year-old rookie batted 260 for Charles in the Class A Sally League last year. He hails from Hartsfield, Ga.

Meanwhile another rookie, 22-year-old pitcher Jim Dunn, received word from his draft board to report for a physical examination for military service next month.

Tidioute Basketball Players Receive Letters Today, Eight Veterans to Return Next Year

Four out of eight Tidioute High lettermen will return next season according to a list of coveted "T" winners received today. Coach Charles Anderson will have Art Atkin, Lyman Morrison, Jack McIntyre and Harold Bunce coming back, while he loses Bob Schwab, Pete Buckingham, Ed Miller and Bob Benner.

As a tribute to the Upper Allegheny Valley titlists, a banquet will be held in their honor on Wednesday, March 25, by the merchants and friends in the community.

Coach Anderson's passers went through the 1952-53 campaign with a 20-5 record, acquiring a 11-1 account in league competition, and lost their first playoff contest, 38-37, to West Springfield.

During the campaign Tidioute defeated Pleasantville, Youngsville, Waterford and Saegertown, twice; West Forest, East Forest, and Sugar Grove, three times; and Clarion, Alumni and Sparta each once, while losing twice to Cranberry, and once to Warren, Youngsville and Sparta.

Senior Bob Schwab led the team's individual scoring race with 399 points, an average of better than 15 markers per game. He was followed by Art Atkin with 302; Morrison, 280; Buckingham, 234; and McIntyre, 136.

Milwaukee in Big League and Boston Is One-Club Town

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—Milwaukee is big league and Boston is a one-club town after the first major league franchise shuffle since 1903—perhaps only a sample of things to come.

The time will arrive when only New York and Chicago will be two-club cities in the opinion of owner Lou Perini of the Braves who yesterday received unanimous approval to move his Boston franchise to Milwaukee and a 7-1 sanction to transfer his Milwaukee franchise in the American Association to Toledo.

President Walter O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers also predicts sweeping changes in the baseball map.

You'll see more territory being drafted than you can shake a stick at," said O'Malley. "This can set up a chain reaction."

O'Malley may be right but it can't come true before October because the Major League Executive Council last Sunday froze all territory except for the period from Oct. 1 to Dec. 1. The lone exceptions were the Boston-to-Milwaukee and St. Louis Brown-to-Baltimore moves then under consideration. The Browns, of course, suffered a crushing defeat Monday in a 5-2 rebuke by the American League owners that ruled out the Baltimore proposal.

The Boston Braves became the Milwaukee Braves yesterday afternoon when the American Association accepted a $50,000 payment for "damages" suffered by the loss of Milwaukee.

There was no solid opposition to the Braves' transfer in the National League meeting. The owners said most of the time was consumed in discussing the problems involved—particularly the schedule.

'One and One' Likely To Go Another Year

Kansas City (AP)—Basketball's rules framers decide today whether they want to keep the much-maligned "one and one" free throw rule—and chances are they'll say, "yes."

A high-priced member of the National Basketball Committee said the rule probably will be given another year's grace if for no other reason than that nobody has come up with an adequate substitute.

The committee said it expected to clear up its business before noon. Bruce Drake of the University of Oklahoma, added that he foresaw "no radical changes."

BIG LEAGUE ROOKIES—No. 1

Indiana's Hoosiers Beat Jayhawks To Win NCAA Tourney

Kansas City (AP)—Indiana's hurrying Hoosiers proved their right to the title of the nation's No. 1 basketball team of annexing the 15th NCAA tournament of champions banner, 69-68, over Kansas University's fiery Jayhawks.

Coach Branch McCracken's Hoosiers did it in a furious running and shooting battle climaxed by Bob Leonard's winning free throw with 27 seconds remaining before 10,500 partisan Kansas fans in Municipal Auditorium last night.

The Washington Huskies, who came into the semifinals as tournament favorites, took consolation honors, 86-69, over Louisiana State.

In winning, the Big Ten champions presented McCracken with his second National Collegiate Athletic Association blue ribbon. The first one came in 1940 by a 60-42 score against the same school and in the same arena.

It must have been a bitter disappointment for Kansas Coach Forest Phog Allen, dean of the nation's cage mentors, although he'd

THE VOICE OF LOVE

William Neubauer

Chapter 13

BLUE eyes shot her a fierce glance from under shaggy, tufted brows. Moving with heavy deliberation, Doctor half rose from the chair on the veranda of Crescent Moon Bay Hotel, but he didn't smile. "Been waiting for you," he said gruffly. "Don't you ever help your folks run this place?"

"Doctor, I'm very busy. We're nearing the end of the term, and you know what that means."

"If you could spend the afternoon with Bob—"

"I had no choice. He was waiting in my car. This will astonish you, I'm sure, but the truth is I was practically kidnapped."

He folded his hands on his lap. "Have you read the paper?"

"No. But Bob told me all about it." She wagged a finger chidingly. "Aren't you a bit ashamed? I didn't take Dan to see you so that you could scrap. I wanted you to hire him and go away on a vacation."

He said crisply: "There's a dangerous young man, Ruth."

Steel striking on flint produced the usual spark. "I think that's a terrible thing to say! Doctor, if you came here to draw me into the argument you're wasting your time. I like Dan Curtis. I think he's a fine man."

His voice grew harsher. "I won't say he should be hanged, but I do say he should be drummed out of the profession which he's always been too busy to practise up until now."

"That's quite enough!"

"That's only the beginning. And don't bring up the fact that you think you're in love with him. It isn't pertinent."

"I, on the other hand—"

"We had a grand talk," he went on. "I offered to take him in without cost. He countered by offering to make me the director of his hospital if I would agree to stop pressing for a community hospital."

"Well?"

He shook his white-maned head, utterly baffled.

He growled. He threw his head back to bellow his scorn for those who cheapened the noblest profession in the world. But he met the large, glowing brown eyes and they brought him back to a reasonable state of calm. He remembered that people had to be led, not driven. He remembered that Ruth was the daughter of the Civic Betterment Society's candidate for Mayor. She had to be won over. If she were to support Dan Curtis the result would be defeat. There it was, as simple and horrible as that.

"It works this way," he said heavily. "With the community hospital out of the way, Dan Curtis and several businessmen will build a hospital. They'll establish a monopoly. Top rates could be charged and people would have to pay them or else. Eventually a larger hospital would be needed. Since Dan Curtis's hospital would be serving a need, the city would naturally be asked to contribute so much toward the construction and maintenance of the new place. More money rolling in, a bigger investment than ever, or a bigger business asset, if you wish. A business, no less. So much profit on each broken leg, so many dividends on so many operations. Pretty, eh?"

"Ridiculous," she chuckled. "There, that's why you need a vacation. You've been working too hard and it's left you worn out. In the first place, Golden City wouldn't stand for that. In the second place, Dan isn't that sort of man."

He heaved a long sigh. "He's that sort of man. I'd be paid for doing exactly nothing except keeping my mouth shut. Don't you understand? It isn't the idea of service, but the idea of making money."

"And what's wrong with a doctor making money?"

"Nothing. I'm all for it. But there's a difference between making money and gouging people. What do the poor do, will you tell me that?"

"He'd take them in, I suppose."

"How could he afford to, unless he overcharged those who could pay? Now stop being silly!"

"Why don't you ask Dan all that, Doctor?"

"I intend to," came the grim rejoinder. "I may as well tell you now that I shall fight this thing through to the bitter end."

This was more serious. Suppose Doctor won? Suppose Dan had to go elsewhere to practise his profession? Suppose Dan left before all this confusion inside her had been dealt with? Suppose—

"The thing I want to know, Ruth, is what you propose to do?"

"I?"

That was when Dr. Ambrose Fell, in his anxiety to protect his people, made his big blunder.

"Now look here! Obviously he's honeying up to you for a business reason. You're Ephraim's daughter. If you side with him against me, against your father, it'll have an effect on the outcome, and you know it. So—"

But there was where Ruth's mind caught up with his words. Anger shot her from the chair. "What an evil thing to say! Doctor, how dare you!"

"This isn't a game, Ruth. Carlie, the lives and welfare of people are involved."

But she'd dwelt in tension too long. "I won't listen to you!" she cried. "I think you're the most hateful man I've ever met, so there!"

Before he could recover his aplomb she'd turned on her heel and gone running to the family's cottage at the rear.

In her flight he had his answer, and the answer left him somewhat disturbed.

But if it is, how could you lose?"

THE VOICE OF LOVE

William Neubauer

Chapter 14

IN San Francisco, meanwhile, Dan Curtis was having the time of his life. This was doctor stuff and it was also business stuff, a happy combination of his two main interests. He smiled at the gentlemen assembled about the long table. "There," he announced, "is how matters stand. The community's growing. All the records indicate that, all the building permits indicate it."

A little man with a bald head nodded. A big man with a red mustache grinned.

"And the competition is negligible, gentlemen. There is one elderly doctor in the town. He has an idea for a community hospital, as Mr. Eliot has told you. On the other hand, a great many people oppose that expense. So it would seem that a little publicity, a little campaigning, will eliminate Dobbin from the picture."

"Eight percent?" inquired the little man with the bald head. "That strikes me as being pretty high."

Dan turned to Mr. Eliot, his lawyer. Mr. Eliot promptly rose. "In the beginning, of course, the return would not be that. But consider the over-all picture gentlemen. A hospital is needed. And it would draw not only from the Golden City area, but the entire Peninsula area. The rooms would usually be occupied. The rates charged would enable us in time to pay eight percent at a minimum, and probably more."

"If there's no community hospital, of course," pointed out Dan with a display of honesty. "There, I'm not hiding the difficulties. As a matter of fact, I don't ask backing until the monopoly is assured. But if it is, how could you lose?"

It was effective. The little man with the bald head slapped his hand on the table. "You can count me in for fifty thousand."

"I'll buy twenty-five," announced the man with the red mustache.

"Add my fifty," said Dan, "and we've got half what I want. I think we'll be able to swing it, don't you, Eliot?"

The lawyer shrugged. "A smaller building at first, with room for expansion. It could be done for under two hundred thousand, it seems to me."

Hands were shaken, and Dan and his lawyer went down in the elevator to Market Street. They went back to the hotel and found Langley Curtis growing somewhat impatient in the lobby.

"It marches, Uncle, it marches."

Langley Curtis nodded briefly. He was in a vile temper. He'd spent the afternoon discussing his future with several highly placed radio people. Each had assured him his future would be as glorious and profitable as his past had been if he patched up the quarrel with Acme and his former sponsor. Greatly pleased, he'd rushed back to the hotel and put in a long-distance telephone call to New York. "Tell Mr. Bronson I've thought things over," he'd commanded the executive's secretary. "Instead, the girl has simply laughed. 'Look, Mr. Curtis, I don't hold a grudge against you, but why don't you take up fish peddling?' She'd hung up on him; three thousand miles from New York, he'd heard the iron doors of continued success bang shut against him."

"It isn't important," he snapped now. "The hospital won't make the same money for you that my career will. It's time you started to think about helping me to make a comeback. You ought to take a plane to New York and visit some people."

Dan's face set into grim lines. "I'll give you a ring," he told the lawyer. "Then he took his uncle's arm and led him to the elevator. In the suite, he took off his jacket and sailed into the biggest fight of his life. "Let's face it, Uncle: time's running out on you. The big thing now is television. And while I'm fond of you, I can't imagine people tuning you in to watch you spout platitudes, banalities and the rest."

"You've got it wrong, Dan," Langley Curtis sat down on the bed. "I want my career! And don't think for an instant that I couldn't score on television. The world's in a mess. Looming over all is the threat of war with Russia. Yes, there may be war and total destruction. On the other hand, there may be peace. And it seems to me—"

"Cut," snapped Dan Curtis. "I'm your nephew, not your audience. I have things to do."

"Besides," grumbled Langley Curtis, "you've gotten away from the main idea. You were going to practise. That was your plan. This hospital idea—"

"Has been in my mind a long time, Uncle. I've had checks made all over the Peninsula. I've arranged for backing. I've even worked out some plans to bring in business. No. You misunderstand. This hospital idea is intelligent. In the long run it will make more money for me than serving as the agent of even a successful radio man. Also, it's what I want to do."
